

Fryingpan-Arkansas Project Water Import Tracking

The Southeastern Colorado Water Conservancy District (District) tracks the import of Project water to keep the District Board of Directors and its constituents informed of the amounts of water being imported through the Fryingpan – Arkansas Project North and South Collection Systems. The amount and timing of the imports are one of the indicators used in determining the amount and timing of the allocation of Project water.

Imports are tracked using the “Colorado Division of Water Resources Boustead Tunnel Web-site.”
